

HORROR IN THEATER AT CINCINNATI

SEVERAL PERSONS ARE KILLED AND MANY ARE HURT.

Timbers Fall From the Roof—Three Known to Have Been Killed and Two Score Injured Taken to the Hospital—Slight Warning Enable Hundreds to Make Their Escape.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 16.—The falling of the ceiling in Robinson's opera house Friday evening gave Cincinnati almost a repetition of the horrible accident of '76, when the cry of fire in the same opera house caused a stampede in the audience and over 100 persons were crushed to death. Friday evening the Holden Brothers Comedy Company was producing "Dangers of a Great City," and the curtain had just been rung up on the second act, when there was an ominous cracking heard all over the house. Before Alice Opie had concluded the second verse of her song the house was in total darkness, and 200 persons who had been seated in the orchestra chairs were submerged in a mass of plaster and fallen timbers.

The following are in the hospital: MRS. GEORGE KLEMAN, dead. MISS LUCY COHEN, dead. UNKNOWN MAN, dead.

—GOLDMAN, 642 Barr street, fractured skull, will die.

The following are at the hospital more or less seriously hurt:

Della Alger, Daisy Fairhead, Mrs. J. Fairhead, S. E. Long, Mary Scudder of Newport, Pearl Hall, Grace Connors C. J. Weiss, Will Moten, Joseph Alger John Alger, Fred Jenks, scalp wounded, T. C. Wiley of Dayton, Ky., W. J. McCabe, Clint Deal, Jacob Weil, Mary Hess, John White, Amelia Weil, Mary Howe, Mary Moorman.

The scene in front of the hospital door was a sad one. Hundreds of people gathered there clamoring for the names of the injured. An attendant stood at the door with a list of those brought to the hospital and answered these anxious inquiries. Many names were inquired for that were not in the hospital list.

The ceiling of the theater was in the shape of a dome, which was formed by rafters rising from walls of the theater and joined in the center of the ceiling by a circular bar of iron. This bar was fastened to the roof of the house by iron rafters, the whole forming the inside shell of the theater. This whole mass was precipitated upon the heads of the 200 spectators. The preliminary cracking and a slight shower of loose plaster gave a short warning, being enough, however, to enable many to get under the seats and thus save themselves.

The gallery, balcony and dress circle were untouched, but the occupants of these, fearing that the worst was yet to come, rushed from the building, and many were crushed and trampled upon as they attempted to get out. Those who escaped severe injury in the orchestra made a rush for the stage, which soon became a mass of struggling humanity, entangled in the ropes and stays of the scenery, which had fallen upon the stage.

The cries of those trying to escape and the moans and prayers of the injured were heartrending. The actors fled from the theater in their stage clothes and escaped injury.

All the lights in the theater were extinguished by the breaking of the main electric wire. In five minutes the patrol wagons and as many fire engines and ladder companies were surrounding the theater and a howling mob was rushing about interfering with the work of rescue.

Capt. Conway and his salvage corps, who were first on the scene, seized half a dozen bodies, and not stopping to see whether they were dead or alive galloped off with them to the hospital. As fast as the patrol wagons arrived they were filled with limp bodies and rushed to the hospital.

Several of the actors, all the men in the company, rendered heroic assistance, and risked themselves under the hanging debris to pull out the unfortunate. George H. Sommers, the stage manager of the company, did heroic service in assisting the injured. Not more than five persons were killed outright.

While the excitement was at its height and men were cursing and women screaming in their frantic endeavor to escape there came another crash. It was the entire ceiling tearing away from the rafters and tumbling down upon the masses of struggling humanity. It sounded like a terrible whirlwind. The noise was heard for a square around, and hundreds rushed to the front of the theatre, but were met and driven back across the street by the streams of people rushing from the inside. Hundreds were crushed under foot.

An arbitrary call was sent in for every patrol wagon in the city and a general fire alarm was sounded.

The howling mob around the theatre made the situation very serious. Every available policeman was hastened to the scene of the accident. It was half an hour before any light could be turned on inside and during all this time the groans and moans of the injured increased to a heart-rending extent. The rescuers were in imminent danger of their lives, as no one knew when the roof or balconies would come tumbling down upon their heads. The search for the wounded was carried on at first by means of hand lanterns and was necessarily very slow. It was fully an hour and a half after the accident before the last body was taken from the debris.

The disaster recalls forcibly a more fearful one which took place in the same building in February, 1876. Last night there was a real cause for the panic and loss of life; then there was no cause whatever except the wicked cry of fire started when a little spluttering hiss came from the calcium light in the upper gallery. The house was packed, mostly with women and children, to witness an allegory of "America" given by hundreds of school children. With the single cry of fire in such an assembly the mischief was done. Plunging into the aisles and rushing down the stairways and toward the wide doorway leading to the street, the inevitable blockade of fallen human bodies occurred, and the wild and savage struggle for escape by those behind completed the dreadful mischief. Only when all outward progress was absolutely blocked and time was given to the living to use their senses to discover that there was no fire and no cause for alarm did the insane panic cease. Then followed the sickening rescue of the many dead and injured.

MILLARD IS SHORT $20,000

Former Collector of Special Assessments in Peoria Admits a Defalcation.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 16.—William Millard, for two years preceding July 1 collector of special assessments for the City of Peoria, is a defaulter in an amount anywhere from $20,000 to $35,000. L. J. Liebenstein, present collector, thinks that the shortage will aggregate more than $20,000 at the present time, with several pages of the books yet to be examined.

When William Allen was elected mayor, more than two years ago, he appointed James Millard collector of taxes. At this time it was understood that, while Mr. Millard was the appointee, that his son William should do the clerical work and draw the salary. Some time after the appointment Mr. Millard died and the son was appointed to succeed the father as a mark of respect. He gave a good and sufficient bond and performed the functions of the office until a change in administration last spring caused a change in the office. A few weeks ago a discrepancy of $80 was discovered in the books, and the investigation was ordered with the result that already a shortage of more than $20,000 has been discovered.

Mr. Millard, when confronted with the facts, admitted that he was a defaulter and endeavored to throw the blame on his dead father. No steps have yet been taken to prosecute him, and his bondsmen will make good the shortage as soon as the exact amount is determined.

Son Held for the Murder.

Camden, N. J., Oct. 16.—Eli Shaw was taken into custody by the police Friday and formally charged with the murder of his mother, Mrs. Sarah Shaw, and grandmother, Mrs. Emma Zane, which occurred in this city Tuesday morning. The arrest was based on newly discovered evidence, including the finding of a 32-caliber revolver, of which two chambers had been fired. The motive for the crime, it is claimed, was a desire on the part of Shaw to inherit the property belonging to his grandmother and mother in order to be married.

Washington, Oct. 16.—Commander R. B. Bradford, chief of the bureau of equipment, has suggested to the navy department that torpedo boats be employed to prevent filibustering. ## BOOM IN BUSINESS WELL MAINTAINED

TRADE CONDITIONS CONTINUE TO IMPROVE.

Gold Coming to This Side—The Payments Through Clearings are The Largest Ever Known In October—Heavy Output From Cotton Mills—Failures for the Week.

New York, Oct. 16.—R. O. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: "Foreign trade in September, the heavy increase in iron production and consumption and the largest payments through clearings ever known in October are indications which outweigh hesitation in some markets. The increase in employment of labor has continued with further accounts daily of works opening, increasing force of hands or raising of wages, and at every point where actual production can be tested it appears greater than ever before. Efforts by the Bank of England have delayed further gold exports, but, with a cotton movement rising, large shipments to this side are deemed certain and not distant. More gold, however, means less just now than more iron. Prices of pig iron hold steady, though the production has been further increased since Oct. 1. Another contract has been taken by the Illinois Steel Company to deliver 30,000 tons of steel rails for Japan and the Pennsylvania company has bought 35,000 tons. Ore shipments on the lakes surpass all records, and the Rockefeller company has contracted for another steamer, with two consorts, to carry 20,000 tons, the largest ever built for the lakes.

The cotton mills are producing as largely as cheap cotton invites. Sales of wool for two weeks have been 24,331,600 pounds at the three chief markets, of which 15,397,390 were domestic. The demand for spring goods is limited. Wheat has been fairly steady, but moving more largely than last year from the farms and from the country. Western receipts were 15,167,054 bushels in two weeks of October.

"Failures for the week have been 223 in the United States, against 328 last year, and 36 in Canada, against 40 last year."

Miss Mattie Pounds announced that Illinois has been awarded the prize for the greatest number of young people's societies. The state reported fifty-four as against fifty-three in Ohio. Indiana was third, with forty-four. Seventeen states have asked that India be the building field of the young people's societies.

Interest in Municipal Reform.

Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 16.—The subject of municipal reform excited great interest before the civic-philanthropic conference. The position of Mayor Jones of Toledo was especially endorsed. He argued that all contract work should be done away with, for contractors' pay must either come out of inferior work or inferior wages. Money spent with contractors, he holds, goes from the people instead of to the people. The afternoon session was devoted to the subject of university settlements, a paper being read by Dr. Henry Wade Rogers of Evanston, Ill., president of Northwestern university. The Rev. Dr. Frank Crane of Trinity Methodist church, Chicago, made a strong address on the same subject.

DRAFTS NEW SCHEME FOR CURRENCY LAW

SECRETARY GAGE HARD AT WORK ON HIS PLAN.

Will Not Talk of the Matter—All Of the Time of the Secretary of The Treasury is Being Devoted to The Consideration of Changes in Our Currency Legislation.

Washington, Oct. 16.—Secretary Gage has locked himself up in a private room in the treasury department and will deny himself to callers until he has formulated the financial plan which he will submit to congress.

The secretary several months ago sent a circular letter to seventy bankers and other men of prominence in financial affairs, embodying tentative propositions designed to draw from them an expression of their views on the proposed currency and banking legislation.

The gentlemen addressed made reply, and Secretary Gage has been putting in his spare time during the summer and autumn months in a careful perusal of the communications. He admits that his own views as to what is practicable and desirable in the way of legislation have undergone modification during the last few months, as the result of his studies and his observation of the new conditions which have arisen of late.

What these changes are or what his recommendations will be are subjects he does not discuss. It is believed, however, that he will pay considerable attention to the desirability of a consolidation of the various kinds of paper money into one issue.

The imports of merchandise during September amounted to $42,410,018, of which over 50 per cent was free of duty, a loss in total imports as compared with September, 1896, of $8,509,000. For the nine months an increase is shown of $66,660,853.

Nogales, Ariz., Oct. 16.—A sensation has been sprung in the adjacent state of Sonora, Republic of Mexico, by an ecclesiastical edict from Archbishop Lopez excommunicating all members of the Masonic fraternity. Nearly all of the high officials in the state and many of the most prominent citizens are members of the Masonic order and at the same time many of them are devout Catholics. Consequently this sweeping edict has spread consternation all over the state.

HEAT STOPS VINCENT.

Sausagemaker's Chief Counsel Is Compelled to Ask a Postponement.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Heat brought prematurely to a close yesterday afternoon's session of the Luetgert trial. In the midst of his argument, the final plea for the life of Adolph L. Luetgert, Attorney William A. Vincent, chief counsel for the defense, asked that court be adjourned for the day. Judge Tuthill had intended to force the trial to a close. He granted the lawyer's request, however.

In resuming his argument before the jury Mr. Vincent sought, step by step, to show that there was nothing in the love of the sausage-maker for Mary Slemmer which could possibly constitute a motive for murder. He defended William Charles, the prisoner's friend, and laid stress upon his loyalty. He ridiculed "Ham" Frank Odorowski, talked of "dear, beloved Christine" Feldt, until the bailiff could not stop the laughter of the people in the courtroom, and referred to Mrs. Agatha Tosch in a manner that brought smiles to the faces of the jurors.

Declaring that Charles Hengst, Fred Schultz and the Schimpke girls gave false testimony, he assailed the police department and its methods, and then paid his compliments to the state's attorney. He said that Mr. Deneen was eloquent and convincing, but asked the jurors to remember that his plea for the hanging of Luetgert would be only because Mr. McEwen forgot or was afraid to ask the severest penalty of the law.

Mr. Vincent is expected to close his address today. Mr. Deneen, who makes the final argument in behalf of the state, will reply next Monday. Then will come Judge Tuthill's charge to the jury. It is expected that the case will go to the jury about Tuesday or Wednesday.

May Elect Women as Members.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 16.—The eighty-seventh annual meeting of the American board of foreign missions came to an end Friday. It will meet next year in the First Congregational church at Grand Rapids, Mich. The report of the committee appointed last year to consider an amendment to the charter by which women could be elected to the board as corporate members left the question still open. It is the judgment of the committee that the board is entirely and perfectly competent under its present charter, without amendment, to elect women as indicated.

ST. ANDREW'S MEN.

Sixteen Hundred Delegates Attend Service at Buffalo, N. Y.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Sixteen hundred St. Andrew's men from all over the English speaking world partook of the holy communion in St. Paul's Cathedral Friday morning. The celebrant was the lord bishop of Rochester, England.

The annual reports of both American and Canadian brotherhoods showed, not large, but substantial, growth made last year. The number of chapters is now 1,226.

James L. Houghteling of Chicago, president of the American brotherhood spoke on "The Brotherhood Man and His Work." A plain talk was given on "Boyhood and Its Treatment" by G. R. Parkin, head master Upper Canada College, Toronto. Dr. Parkin thought the safety of the English upper classes was in sending boys to school away from home. American parents try too much to train boys themselves.

Bishop Dudley of Kentucky said, in an address on "Manhood and Its Responsibilities," that men ought not to try to drive a bargain to save a soul. His duty to himself was far higher. On his duty as a citizen he said: "A man ought to act for the state as if he were the only man in it." The convention is the largest ever held by the brotherhood.

STRANGLER BY ROBBERS.

Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 16.—Thursday night near Brimfield, a small town near this city, Adam Hoffman, one of the largest landowners in Northern Indiana, was murdered and his hired man was so hurt that he may not recover.

About 2 o'clock in the morning two masked men visited Hoffman's house, ostensibly to rob him, as he was thought to have money in hiding in his house. The robbers went to Hoffman's room, covered him with four pistols and ordered him to give up his money. When Hoffman refused, the men placed one end of a rope around his neck and the other end was made fast to the bed. Then they began two hours of terrible torture by pulling him until he would strangle. This continued until the robbers saw that Hoffman would not give up, and they then choked him to death and escaped. Bloodhounds have been placed on the trail of the robbers.

BOOKS THAT TELL
OF COLONY DAYSJ. FRANK WILLEY HAS INTER-ESTING VOLUMES.

Published In 1772 They Describe The Geographical Features of the World As They Were Known at That Time—Chapter on America Is Full Of Curious Points.

Two books of great interest to antiquarians are in the possession of J. Frank Willey. They were published in 1772 and make up "A New and Universal Geographical Grammar, or a Complete System of Geography; Containing the Ancient and Present State of All the Empires, Kingdoms, States and Republics in the Known World, the Genius, Language, Learning, Manners, Customs and Habits of the Inhabitants."

According to the "Geographical Grammar" the grand divisions of North America in 1772 were Labrador, Canada, New Scotland, New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, East Florida, West Florida, Louisiana, New Mexico, New Spain. All but the last three were put down as belonging to England. The grand divisions of South America were Terra Firma, Peru, Amazonia, Guiana, Brazil, Paraguay, Chili, Terra Magellanica or Patagonia.

The Colonists a Hardy Race.

The British author had but a poor opinion of New England in 1772 although he says, "The greater part of the people are composed of a substantial yeomanry who cultivate their own freeholds with no dependence on any but providence and their own industry. These freeholds generally pass to their children in the manner of gavel-kind which prevents the far greater part of them from being able to emerge out of their original mediocrity. This manner of inheriting has here one remarkably good effect; it makes the people more ready to go backward into the uncultivated parts of the province, where land may be had at an easy rate and in large portions. By this means and from the form of their government they acquire a very bold and republican spirit. The common sort of people in no part of the world are so independent, or possess so many of the conveniences of life. They are used from their infancy to the exercise of arms and they have a militia which, considered as a militia, is by no means contemptible."

Trouble Was Brewing.

There had already been intimations of trouble with Great Britain and one or two preliminary skirmishes of a legislative sort. The geographer says: "Before the late unhappy differences the value of British manufactures and Indian commodities sent to New England from the mother country on an average of three years amounted to about 395,000 pounds sterling and the imports to Great Britain about 370,500 pounds sterling, but both are greatly decreased through the trade has been reviving for some time."

Description of Old Charters.

An interesting chapter is devoted to the status of American colonial government, and defines the conditions under which they hold their charters. The writer is unable to see any hardship in the form of government and says of the Massachusetts colony where the royal restrictions were felt most severely: "The Massachusetts colony still enjoy many valuable privileges. They not only choose the members of the assembly but that assembly with the governor's concurrence choose the council which resembles the English House of Lords and the governor himself depends upon the assembly for his annual support."

West Gets Brief Notice.

There is no description of the country west of the thirteen colonies and New York is described as bounded on the west by Canada. The map that accompanies the book christens Lake Michigan "Illinois Lake." What is now Nevada was blocked out loosely as New Navar and south of it is New Biscay. A mountain range is shown running down the center of Illinois, where Illinois farmers have never been able to find any elevation higher than a muskrat house.

The books have been in Mr. Willey's family ever since they were published and are valued highly.

A Bible 256 Years Old.

Another old book that is treasured in a Janesville family is a bible printed in Holland in 1641. The book was taken to a bindery for repairs today for the first time in its life of 256 years. Even now it is in good condition and needs nothing but a little cleaning. It is owned by C. F. Yates, and with its black type and heavy

Handlers of Horses That Are Known Here Have Queer Titles

Some of the drivers whose fees have been seen at the Janesville track have odd nicknames. Easton, the driver of Badge, and the young man who sang in the local Presbyterian church two years ago, is known as "The Student." As will be remembered he is a graduate of Harvard.

John Splan is known as the "Orator," on account of his taking abilities; "Buck" Geers, "the silent man from Tennessee;" J. O. Gerrety, "the red man;" McHenry, "the freepoint man;" J. B. Chandler, "old Chan;" John Atkinson, "Deaf John;" and David McClary, "Little Dave." A large number of the fast horses also have nicknames as follows: Badge, "the spirit horse;" Star Pointer, "the pinter horse;" Joe Patchen, "the black fellow;" Dandy Jim, "the grey ghost from Texas;" Marion Mills, "the guideless wonder;" Cheyenne, "the blind horse;" Alix, "sweet little Alix;" Robert J., "little Robert;" Frank Agan, "the Irish horse;" Klamath, "Cookie;" Little Edgar, "the Wisconsin horse;" B. B. P., "the alphabet horse;" Bush, "the pony trotter;" Kalmes, "the midget pacer."

TROUBLE ABOUT FIRE RATES

Insurance Men Say That Board Rules Are Not Being Obeyed.

Local insurance men are having trouble in enforcing the rules of the Janesville board. One insurance man declared today that Jacob Strauss, of Orfordville, who recently joined the board was responsible for the difficulties and that his failure to abide by the regulations would be the subject of action at the next meeting of the board. Price cutting is the subject of most of the complaints.

BETS ON LUETGERT CASE

Even Money Offered That Verdict Will Be For Acquittal.

Janesville men are making modest bets on the outcome of the Luetgert case. At the Myers house last night even money was bet that Luetgert would be acquitted. So far as known no odds have been offered, and no campaign enthusiast has been around to offer three to one that Luetgert carries New York, Indiana and New Jersey.

For the last few days the Forest Park and Milton avenue cars have had brooms tied on the front platforms to clear the tracks. Sand has also been used.

MUST RUSH IN COAL
OR BE VERY SHORTSITUATION IN THE STATE IS SERIOUS.

Milwaukee's Short Supply—Cars Are Hard to Get and the Mines Are Run In Irregular Fashion—Demand For Freight Cars is Very Heavy.

Vice-President Eltinge Elmore of the K. P. Elmore company which supplies a considerable share of the coal used in the Janesville market, has just returned from a business trip to the coal-mining districts of the east, and he tells some interesting facts relative to the coal supply. "Shippers in the East all say it does not now appear possible to get out and ship the quantity of either bituminous or anthracite coal that we need in this market, before the close of navigation," he says. "Up to October 1, this year, Milwaukee had received 300,000 tons of bituminous coal, and on the same date last year we had received 667,000 tons, so that there is a shortage in receipts this year, thus far, of fully 367,000 tons, which must be made up by Dec. 10, at the latest and shipments may be cut off Dec. 1, as that is probably about as long as we can depend on navigation. This gives us about fifty days more to get in the usual amount of coal, which means that it would have to come at the rate of 7000 tons a day right along."

"The mining situation in the coal district is still decidedly mixed. There is not, as yet, a steady output, for two or three reasons. One of these is that the miners who have been out for months cannot do a full day's work as they are not used to it and their hands and arms give out, so that the output of the mines is considerably under their average. Then, the miners are ready to strike upon the least provocation, so that nothing is settled down to a good basis, and many miners are working irregularly. But the chief reason is the decided shortage of cars in the shipping district. Shippers cannot begin to get cars enough for their business, and a shipper that orders 130 cars will receive notice that twenty-five or thirty is the highest number he can have. Then, vessels are standing full of iron ore, while ore docks at Cleveland and other ports are filled to the utmost capacity, so that the boats cannot unload promptly. In the iron district about Pittsburgh, I was informed, there were 10,000 cars on tracks, loaded with ore. And as fast as these cars are unloaded the iron manufacturers hold them and reload at once with their manufactured product, so that coal men practically stand no show. With vessels full, care full and docks full, there is not much chance to get boats or cars for coal. The dealers in the Lake Superior district are also after the coal."

LABOLD IS WELL LIKED

Michigan Paper Speaks Highly of the Janesville Grocer.

Of Joseph Labold who has recently engaged in the grocery business in this city the Leguanae (Mich) Record says: "Mr. Labold who has been with F. H. Kearney & Co. for many years and of late has had charge of the business, also treasurer and leading spirit of the fire department and whatever was for the best interest of the young men of the place, will be badly missed here. His forming a partnership with Mr. Eave and their investment in business at Janesville, Wis., has already been mentioned in this paper. His prosperity in this new venture is more than anticipated as the firm is a good one in all that makes for good business principles, honesty and integrity."

Will awaken in the feminine heart longing for an evening gown. We never had such a fine lot of silks, velvets, accordion chiffon, in lovely effects; mousseline de soie puffing, a dreamy creation, lace nets and heavy embroidered all overs in cream, white and two tone; a world of trimmings; exquisite things in jeweled bands, applique novelties, rich embroidered bands in white and cream; laces, a perfectly immense line, the very latest novelties, nothing lacking. Hardly a thing that we cannot supply. There is little excuse for any woman to go away from this city for dress goods and pay bigger prices. The reason advanced by some for trading in other cities is a weak one, for we can suggest hundreds of rich combinations for dresses, so that no two suits need be the same.

That would lead you to keep the old curtains hanging, think better of it. The trifling cost of a pair of curtains, as we sell them, should not come between you and new draperies. The Dread of Trouble That Flakes Life Unbearable When Doubt as to the Coming of Pain Exists.

Why Anticipate Chronic Sick Headaches?

The Re-occurrence of Pain Nearly as Bad as the Agony Itself.

A sick headache is often quickly over and soon forgotten. But the kind of sick headache that comes oftener and oftener, continually increasing in its intensity, is the kind that should be attended to, for if neglected, not only is the suffering to be expected any moment, but the general breaking down of the entire system is the final result.

Make the stomach right in its action, see that the kidneys work properly, take care that the liver is in perfect condition, and purify the blood. With these vital parts of the body strong and willing to perform their proper functions, sick headaches as well as other diseases disappear.

Mrs. Riley Hampton of Murphysboro, Ill., writes to the Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., as follows:

"Gentlemen:—I suffered intensely with sick headaches. I was troubled with black spots before my eyes, and had severe pains in the back. I had several doctors treat me, but nothing ever did me any good, until I purchased a bottle of Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, and it cured me and I would highly recommend it to all who suffer likewise."

Kickapoo Indian Oil will temporarily dispel the pain, but Kickapoo Indian Sagwa must be taken to effect a permanent cure.

Remember that Kickapoo Indian Remedies are the same to-day as when used centuries ago by the Indians.

DENIES MARK ON NOTES

Golack Ellingson Says Elaf Golackson Signed For the Harvester.

Judge Bennett has a harvester case before him in the Green county court. The McCormick Harvester Machine company sues Elling Golackson to recover from two notes of $37 each which were given in part payment for a harvester. The machine was purchased of Isaac Miller, of Wiota, who was the McCormick company's agent. He filled out the notes and it is claimed the defendant affixed his mark. The defendant is a Norwegian, of Jordan, and he cannot read or write in the English language. In his answer he says his name is Golack Ellingson, and he denies the execution of the notes or that he had anything to do with them. The defense claims that the notes were signed by Elaf G. ### WHAT IS YOUR TRADE?

Each Trade or Occupation Has Its Special Disease.

It is well known among medical men that certain diseases are more readily developed in certain occupations than in others. That each occupation has its attendant physical weakness. Engineers, railroad men and similar occupations suffer mostly from kidney troubles and men who are often exposed to the weather suffer from rheumatism, while clerks and professional men, in fact the army of people whose business keeps them indoors are oftentimes great sufferers from piles and constipation. In this connection the following letter is of interest to people whose occupation will not allow sufficient outdoor exercise.

Mr. A. F. Calhoun, notary public and jeweler and watchmaker of Circleville, W. Va., writes as follows:

"I had been a severe sufferer from piles for years and had tried many remedies with but little benefit, when about three years ago I saw the Pyramid Pile Cure advertised and sent for it."

"I was badly afflicted when I got it, but after only two applications the piles disappeared and from that day to this I have never felt a symptom of the disease."

"I feel that I cannot recommend them too highly to sufferers from piles. The Pyramid Pile Cure is free from cocaine, opium or any mineral poison, absolutely safe, pleasant and painless; sold by druggists at 50 cents per package. If there is any constipation the Pyramid Pills should be used with the pile cure. The pills are 25 cents per package."

"Any druggist will tell you that the Pyramid is the best known and most successful and popular pile cure ever placed on the market and its reputation as a safe and radical cure has only resulted from the personal recommendation of people who have been cured of this distressing ailment."

Send to the Pyramid Co., Albion, Mich., for valuable little book on cause and cure of piles.

THE JANESVILLE GAZETTE

Entered at the postoffice at Janesville, Wis., as second class matter

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1708—Dr. Albert von Haller, eminent physiologist, born at Bern.
1774—Robert Ferguson, Scottish poet, died.
1793—Marie Antoinette, queen of France, was guillotined at Paris.
1795—John Hunter, the famous anatomist and writer on private diseases, fell dead in London.
1830—John Brown astonished the world by seizing Harper's Ferry arsenal.
1888—John Wentworth, western pioneer and political leader, familiarly called "Long John," died in Chicago; born 1818.
1891—Sailors of the United States cruiser Baltimore mobbed at Valparaiso; beginning of the imbroglio with Chile.

FOREIGN TRADE GROWING.

The horrified shrieks, with reference to our prospective loss of foreign markets, which the free-traders were emitting during the discussion of the Dingley law do not seem to have been fully justified. The cause of their mental agony at that time was a belief that the re-enactment of a protective tariff law would destroy our foreign trade, and particularly our foreign trade in American manufactures. To their surprise and chagrin, however, the report of the bureau of statistics, presided over by a free trade democrat, shows that the exportations of American articles in August, 1897, the first full month under the Dingley law, was greater than any August in the history of the country. The fact is that the exportation of American manufactures has grown because of the aid which the protective system has given to the manufacturers of this country, enabling them to reach a stage of perfection in processes and machinery by which they can successfully enter the markets of the world.

MONEY FOR ALL.

Mr. Bryan and his free silver co-laborers would like to blot out the newspaper records of their speeches of a year ago. It was just this time in the campaign of 1896 that they were asserting that the country was suffering from a lack of currency, and could only be supplied by the free, unlimited coinage of silver. The people of the country did not agree with them, and free and unlimited coinage has not been put into operation. Yet the October statement of the Treasury Department shows that the money in circulation today is, $100,000,000 in excess of that one year ago. Curiously, more than one-half of this increase is in gold.

The recall of Gen. Weyler from Cuba must be credited to President McKinley's Cuban policy. While it does not ensure peace in Cuba, it means that the war will be conducted under the recognized civilized rules of warfare, which Weyler never paid the slightest attention to.

The democratic editors are at a loss how to handle the news from various sections of the voluntary increase in wages on the part of large employers of labor. Verily, the road of the calamity howler, like that of the transgressor, is a hard one.

We shall soon know whether the new captain general of Cuba will retain the services of Weyler's industrious corps of type writers, who are always prepared to win battles on short notice.

John R. McLean's bluff withdrawal from the Ohio senatorial fight is well understood by everybody; it merely indicates that he has recognized his own unpopularity.

If Seth Low had begun his abuse of the republican leaders before he attempted and failed to get their support, he would not have made his prejudice so plain.

Funeral of Miss Ellen A. Hickey.

Masses of flowers hid from view the casket in which the remains of Miss Ellen A. Hickey were borne from the home 257 Ringold street this morning. From every side came these mute but beautiful expressions of love and sympathy. One large piece, a pillow, was from the employes of The Gazette office and was inscribed "30" the printers' symbol for "finished."

Funeral services were held in St. Mary's church at 10 o'clock this morning, the body of the church being filled with mourners. Solemn high mass was sung with Rev. R. J. Roche as celebrant, Rev. Father Harlan of Edgerton, deacon, and Rev. Father Collins of St. Patrick's church, sub-deacon. A brief funeral address was delivered by Dean McGinnity. Miss Hickey was a member of the choir of St. Patrick's church for years, a fact that was feelingly alluded to by the speaker. During the service "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" was sung by Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Yates. The music was in charge of Professor John M. Smith. At the conclusion of the services the remains were taken to Mt. Olivet for interment, the pall bearers being Joan Hogan, J. D. O'Hara, Patrick Kavanagh, F. P. Burns, J. P. Baker and R. Rooney.

WAS EWING KILLED? IF SO, WHO DID IT?

FREDERICK M'ADAMS HELD ON GRAVE CHARGE.

The Newville Mystery of Two Years Ago Revived by the Statement of Mrs. Sydney Hurd, Who Claims to Have Seen the Crime Committed.

After two years another chapter has been added to the Newville tragedy. Frederick McAdams of Milton Junction was put in jail last evening charged with the murder, and for the first time the definite statement was made the victim was William Ewing.

Ewing was a painter living in Milton Junction and at the time of the murder he was missing. It was supposed by many that he was the man whose body was found propped up against a tree in a bunch of woods near the Newville bridge, but nothing was proven. The body was badly decomposed when found and the features were so nearly obliterated that identification was impossible.

Ewing's identity and the connection of McAdams with the crime were declared by Sydney Hurd of Milton to District Attorney Jackson yesterday afternoon and Hurd swore out the warrant for McAdams' arrest. His wife, he declared was an eye witness to the tragedy.

The warrant was placed in Sheriff Acheson's hands and the sheriff with Officer Cochrane went to Milton Junction at once, found McAdams on the street and put him under arrest. He denied his guilt emphatically, acted very much surprised and said that he and Ewing were always on the best of terms. Since his arrest he has made no statement and refuses to answer any questions about the affair. He was brought into court at nine o'clock this morning by Sheriff Acheson and pleaded not guilty. His examination was set for October 21 and Smith & Pierce appeared in his behalf.

Body Was Found July 6, 1895.

As it will be remembered, it was July 6, 1895, when the body of a man was found in a clump of bushes on the east bank of the river about a mile from the Newville bridge. There was little but the skeleton left, and the skull rolled off into Justice Spencer's arms when he leaned forward to examine the coat. The dead man wore a well made suit of black, double-breasted sack coat and double-breasted vest. He had on three pairs of pantaloons one over the other. The shirt was a pique, and he had on two suits of underwear of good quality. No tears in the clothing could be found to indicate a struggle, nor were any bullet holes found either in the skull or in the clothing, in spite of the fact that a bull dog revolver lying by the dead man's left hand had two chambers discharged.

Beside the body was a valise containing more underwear a pair of shoes, collars, necktie and railway time cards. The valise looked to be new and was of imitation alligator skin. Nothing could be found upon the body bearing an address. Even the tag in the back of the coat was missing although this looked as if it might have been torn off. One handkerchief was marked M I.

Looked As If Laid Out.

When the body was found it was leaning against a clump of three bass wood trees in a dense thicket of dogwood bushes on the river shore. The legs extended toward the river, the arms were in attitude of rest and the position of the body was that of man lying against a tree asleep. The pose seemed almost too restful. It struck the officers at the time that the limbs must have been arranged after death. Another thing the officers could never understand was what caused the death. The only hole that answered for a bullet wound was in the right side of the nasal process and this might have resulted from decomposition of the cartilage. The skull was not fractured and no bullet was ever found in the skull.

According to Mrs. Hurd's story McAdams, Ewing and two other men one of whom is in Chicago and the other in Rock county were out together with Mrs. Hurd and another young woman. The women, it is claimed, saw McAdams kill Ewing with a club. Mrs. Hurd said she never dared to tell as McAdams had threatened to kill any body who revealed the secret.

June 15, 1895, is the date which the complaint sets for the commission of the murder. This date is only approximate, however, as the Hurdas have no record showing the exact time.

Strange Points About Story

There are several points to be explained before this story will be clear. It seems strange in the first place that Ewing should put on all the clothes he owned and carry a valise with extra collars, underwear tooth brush, railroad time cards, etc., when going out with a party of friends. It is also difficult to see how Ewing could have been killed with a club when his skull was not fractured. It might be possible of course that Ewing was stunned by a comparatively light blow; and then, being propped up against a tree with his head thrown forward might have suffocated. Such a case occurred in Beloit a few years ago.

The officers are inclined to attach more importance to Mrs. Hurd's story because of the belief that she would not make the charge without good grounds as she herself is brought into the affair.

Mrs. Hurd told the officers that she and her companion were walking from Indian Ford to Newville when McAdams, Ewing and the two other men came along in a wagon and offered them a ride. They stopped near the three bass wood trees and it was here that the fatal quarrel took place. She explains Ewing having his valise with him by saying that he was going to Edgerton to live.

Body Not Positively Identified.

The officers have not had time to investigate the story with any degree of thoroughness, and arrested McAdams as one of the preliminary steps. It was never proven absolutely that the body found in the bushes was Ewing's and this of course must be done before any case can be made out.

Miss McAdams Visits the Jail.

Miss Franc McAdams sister of the prisoner arrived at the jail this morning at 11:00 o'clock. Her mother, she said, was almost prostrated by the shock and was unable to come.

"Milton Junction people put no faith in the Hurd story," said Miss McAdams "and have offered to go my brother's bail."

Mrs. William Fulton of Milton Junction with whom Ewing boarded was here today. She declared that the teeth in the skull at Edgerton did not correspond to Ewing's. Ewing left Milton Junction, June 14, 1895, leaving quite a number of creditors. He left considerable clothing in his room and told nobody about his departure.

People around Newville thought that the murder must have been committed early in May as they were under the impression that an offensive odor was noticed by men working on the Newville road near the bass wood trees fully two months before the body was discovered.

LUMBER FOR NEW DEPOT

Delivery Begun This Morning—Adjoining Property is Going Up.

The Janesville Lumber Co. delivered the first load of lumber for the new depot today. The main foundation wall of the depot has been completed and excavations were begun today for the brick transfer house of the American Express Co. which will adjoin the depot on the west. Two cars of coursing stone for the depot arrived today.

The price of the property near the depot has been advanced considerably in the last few weeks. A Fond du Lac man has been trying to buy forty feet of Adam Holt's property at the corner of W. Bluff and Academy streets but Mr. Holt refuses to sell. The Fond du Lac man does not say what he wants of the property.

SAXTON STILL ALIVE BUT HOPE IS SMALL

BUNDY HELD UNDER BONDS OF $17,500.

There Were Threats of Lynching Last Night And Especial Precautions Were Taken By the Elkhorn Officers—How the Trouble in Darien Arose.

At last accounts Isaac Saxton who was shot by Joseph Bundy in Darien yesterday afternoon was still alive. A dispatch from Delavan to The Gazette at 2:15 p. m., says:

"Saxton is still alive but the bullet remains in his head, having entered just above the left eye. Dr. Marks of Milwaukee, probed but could not locate the bullet and will not make any further attempts. J. S. Bundy, the man charged with the crime, is in jail under $17,500 bail. The chances for Saxton's recovery are very slight."

At 9:30 this morning J. P. Worthington received the following dispatch from Mrs. Saxton.

"Resting easy but there is not much hope."

Saxton and Worthington were clerks together in the Taylor house at Clinton in Lote Taylor's time. Saxton afterward went into the hotel business in Whitewater and moved from there to Darien. He was always an admirer of fast horses and usually had one or two in his stable.

His wife and one son live in Darien and an older son, twenty one years old lives in California. Frank Saxton his brother, is employed in the mail service and lives in Beloit.

Bundy is in jail in Elkhorn. There was talk of lynching last night and the officers took special precaution. The horse over which the fatal quarrel ensued was one of the several sold at auction by Mrs. Bundy before she left the Copeland Cutter farm a week ago. The horse, "Patsy," was bid in by Saxton who paid $25. When Bundy got in Darien yesterday he went to Saxton's livery and demanded the horse. H. S. Thomas who runs the stable for Saxton closed up the stable to keep him out. Saxton came in from the country not long after and was told of the trouble. He ordered the doors opened and passing Bundy in front of a store said:

"The doors of the barn are open, Joe, but don't you take Patsy out unless you pay me for him."

"You only paid $25 for the horse and he was sold for $35," said Bundy.

"No, Joe," replied Saxton, "I bid him in for $25."

"You are a liar!" shouted Bundy.

Just then Saxton turned toward Bundy, who pulled a 32-calibre revolver and fired at Saxton, who was not over ten feet away, and Thomas was standing close beside him. Saxton fell into the gutter and Thomas picked him up.

"I guess you are killed, Ike," said Thomas.

"I guess I am," was the wounded man's reply. "Take me into the house before I die."

KNOFF STABBED TO DEATH

Farmer Killed at Carroll, Wyoming. Formerly of Janesville.

Edward Knoff, son of Herman Knoff of this city, was stabbed to death at Carroll, Wyo. The tragedy occurred on Knoff's farm, but the cause was unknown. Knoff was thirty-four years old and was a well-to-do farmer. He leaves a widow and two children. Two sisters live in Chicago.

The news came in a letter to Robert Knoff, at the state university, from his brother, Herman Knoff, whose farm adjoins that of Edward's in Wyoming. But very meagre particulars were given of the affair. Herman said in his letter that he was working over in Montana when the tragedy occurred and was sent for by neighbors. When he arrived neighbors were digging a grave for Edward on his farm. The stabbing took place in Edward's own yard and he lived but eight hours. There was talk of lynching the murderer.

Edward Knoff left Janesville sixteen years ago. He was a carriage maker and learned his trade with Hodge & Buchholz. For the past fourteen years he has resided in Carroll, Wyoming.

Koshkonong property owners led by Landlord William Taylor have protested to the officers of the Rock River Water Power Co. against drawing down the water in Lake Koshkonong far below the crest of the Indian Ford dam. They threaten to go into court to restrain Janesville power owners from drawing down the lake during the low water season so that a wide strip of muddy land lies between the water edge and the hard ground is left open to the heat of the sun.

NO ASIATIC CRADLE FOR EUROPEAN RACE

PROFESSOR OLESON ON ARYAN MIGRATION

In His Lecture Before the History Club He Declares that Scandinavia Gave Birth to the Oldest Of The Three Historical Races In Europe.

Members of the History club and invited guests made an appreciative audience of seventy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. J. this last evening. They were addressed by Prof. Julius E. Olson of the state university on "Origin of the Scandnavians and Their Contribution to the World's Progress." Scandinavia, Prof. Olson declared, was the original cradle of the most typical Aryan race in Europe and the Scandnavians a parent stock sprung from the soil, indigenous to Scandinavia and growing up there in the ice age. He held firmly to the theory which has gained acceptance during the last few years that Europe was not peopled by any migration from Asia. The historical European races he held to be three in number, the blonde long skulls, the brunette broad skulls and brunette long skulls. He insisted on the division according to physical characteristics and refused to take language as the test. By linguistic as well as physical and historical proofs, however, he went far toward showing the Scandinavian to have been the oldest of the three European races and to have pervaded every state in Europe at one time or another. It had contributed greatly to Greek, Roman and every other European civilization, the contribution in each case having been blood and brawn and vitality. It was the one race that had occupied its own cradle land from earliest days, but had also overflowed across the continent of Europe repeatedly and given vitality to every other group. The speaker even found basis for the belief that the earliest accepted type of pure Hellenic beauty was the Scandinavian type.

He was heard with great interest, his subject being one that is not covered adequately in any book in the English language. The lecture formed an excellent introduction to the course in Scandinavian history which will be taken up by the club during the winter.

WINTER MATERIALS.

Cloth Costumes For Cold Days—Short Jackets—Children's Garments.

A great deal of cloth is to be worn this winter. The cloth costume is the practical one for general use in cold weather, and will be found in the wardrobe of every woman who gives any attention to her clothes. It may be trimmed simply with stitching, or with braid, buttons, galloon or embroidery, according to the elaboration desired and the purpose for which it is intended. Cords and buttons, frogs and passementerie, in which steel, silver or gold effects enter, are also employed as decoration.

The most fashionable tints for cloth gowns are navy blue, Russian green and gray. The trimming of the skirt is put around the hips in the majority of cases. The jacket, if a jacket costume is chosen, is short.

Cheviot is largely represented among the assortment of dress goods intended for winter wear, and is even more durable than serge for rough and ready gowns, since it bears rain, mud and snow without injury, provided it is well sponged before being made up. In deep blue, brown, green or red it makes effective although inexpensive and serviceable costumes, and a trimming of black braid is most pleasing and appropriate.

The picture which is given in today's issue illustrates a new and effective jacket. It is of suede cloth and has an application of green velvet, which forms a square yoke behind, while in front it extends to the lower edge of the jacket in a stole shape. Mohair galloon of a suede tint outlines the velvet and trims the valois collar, also following the edge of the garment, which is close at the back. The front is fastened in the middle with two large pearl buttons.

VARIOUS NOTES.

New Stationery—The Clover Brooch—Jewels and Their Significance.

Linen paper, imitating the grain of cloth, is the newest thing in fashionable stationery and comes in all delicate shades of color, pink, suede, straw, water green and chamois. There are also heavier papers in gray, beige and white, which are much liked. The sealing wax should be chosen to match the stationery.

Young girls should never wear diamonds nor any rich and valuable jewels. In France it is never permitted, and the rule has reason and good taste to recommend it. Small and unpretentious trinkets, odd, curious and attractive, are quite allowable, and one of the favorite trifles at present is a little brooch in the shape of a medallion in which is enclosed a real, natural four leaved clover—dried and pressed, of course. This brooch is guaranteed to bring good fortune to the possessor.

Precious stones, like flowers, have certain sentiments and superstitions attached to them. The diamond insures a faithful performance of promises; the garnet gives sincerity; the amethyst preserves its wearer from violent passions; jasper gives constancy of affection and matrimonial happiness; the sapphire produces repentance for faults committed; the emerald enables one to foresee the future; the agate insures health; the ruby guards from false friendships; onyx causes insomnia and evokes phantoms and specters; cornelian dissipates evil thoughts and sadness; the opal augments fidelity; the topaz prevents unpleasant dreams; the turquoise assures success in love. From this list it should be easy to select some stone for an appropriate gift to a friend which shall convey a meaning and be a talisman as well as a token of affection. Jewels are the prettiest sort of present, for they are small, and they last as a constant reminder of the giver.

The illustration shows a costume of willow green silk, the skirt being encircled near the top by a scalloped band of darker green velvet, the band being followed by a line of embroidery. The blouse bodice is draped at the left side, being cut in scallops and bordered with green velvet and embroidery. There is a yoke of tuck silk at the back, outlined with velvet and embroidery, and the yoke shows at the left side of the front. The blouse is fastened by steel buttons and trimmed with a fine plaiting of green mousseline de soie. The basque is composed of scalloped tabs edged with velvet. The belt is of green velvet, fastened by a buckle. The sleeve caps are formed of velvet edged tabs.

DR. GREENE'S NERVURA CURES BELVA A. LOCKWOOD, FOREMOST WOMAN OF HER TIME.

Belva A. Lockwood the Acknowledged Leader of American Women, Has Been Cured by Dr. Greene's Nervura and Recommends Its Use to All Weak, Tired, Nervous, Run Down and Suffering People.

Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy Has Proved Itself the Greatest and Grandest Medicine In the World. It Cures the People. It Gives Health, Strength, Vitality and Vigor to All. Use It and Watch Your Aches Disappear and Your Strength Return.

BELVA A. LOCKWOOD.

There is no word so powerful among women, no influence so great, and no authority so high as the utterances of a recognized leader when speaking to her sister women for the good of womankind.

When, therefore, the voice of Belva A. Lockwood, of Washington, D. C., who is recognized among women as their mightiest leader and champion in all women's movements which mark this generation, is raised in the interests of women; when this most eminent woman lawyer and lecturer in the world, representative of her sex to such an extent that she has been twice nominated for President of the United States by the Equal Rights Party, who has been honored by membership in more American and Foreign Societies than any other woman, publishes the fact to the world that she owes her present good health and strength to the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, it comes as a positive proof, a revelation of the way to health to the thousands upon thousands of people who droop and languish under the burden of ill health, over-taxed strength, nervous disorders and the weaknesses, pains and aches of female complaints.

It rings like a clarion note of hope and health for the weakened, worn out, discouraged women of our land, depressed alike in nerve power and body strength, who live on without strength, energy or ambition, but who will now know from the wonderful cure of Mrs. Belva A. Lockwood, through the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura, and from her enthusiastic praise of this grand remedy and urgent advice to women to seek its remarkable health-giving, invigorating and restoring powers, that good health, strong nerves, vigorous bodies, always follow the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

Mrs. Lockwood says: "I have used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and am pleased to say that it has improved my digestion, relieved the sleeplessness under a great nervous strain, during which I believe that sleep would otherwise have been impossible, and seems in every way to have built up my general health. The attacks of faintness to which I had previously been subject have entirely disappeared. It increases the appetite, tends to cheerfulness and general good feeling, and leaves no ill effect."

"I can freely recommend it to all persons afflicted with nervous disorders, or that tired feeling which is so common. I recommend it also to nervous people, aged people and to all persons in delicate health."

BELVA A. LOCKWOOD, A. M. & B. L., Secretary American Peace Bureau.

Do not suffer another moment, but get Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and be cured. Consultation, examination and advice free on all diseases at the office of Dr. Greene's Remedies, 148 State Street, Chicago, Ill., by calling personally or by writing.

Thirteenth Century Women.

I have just come across a passage in a book of gleanings from one Bartholomew Anglicus, a mediæval writer. He lived about the middle of the thirteenth century. The passage is on the subject of women. You shall hear how the old philosopher regarded the sex. It begins with a command, direct and simple, and applicable in all ages: "Men behave to take heed of maidens. For they be tender of complexion, small, pliant and fair of disposition of body, shamefast, fearful and merry. Touching outward disposition, they be well nurtured, demure and soft of speech and well ware of what they say and delicate in their apparel. And for a woman is more meeker than a man, she weepeth sooner, and is more envious and more laughing and loving, and the malice of the soul is more in a woman than in a man. And she is of feeble kind and is more shamefast, and she maketh more lessings and is more slow in working and in moving than a man."—Walter Bant.

The Braid Mania.

The tailors assure us that the braid mania has come to stay, and that the autumn and winter walking gowns are to be adorned with soldierly trimming of epaulets, frogs, etc. Some of these braided designs are very pretty, and in black or gray, blue, deep red or dark green cloth are extremely becoming. The braided tailor made gown is the tailor made gown for the slender woman. The most severely plain costume can be made becoming by elaborate braiding, and the too slender wearer may rest in the serene consciousness that her much trimmed suit is perfectly correct.

Designs in fine silk braid and in jet passementerie, on the same order as the patterns for cloth suits, are to be used for frocks of silk and other light materials. Indeed, some of our old ideas on the subject of dress are to be upset completely this season. One need not be severe and simple in order to be tailor made.—New York Commercial.

Put Her Lessons Into Practice.

Miss Susan W. Randall, daughter of the late Samuel J. Randall of Philadelphia, proved awhile ago the true meaning of first aid to the injured. She was driving along a street in Utica, where she was visiting, when George D. Frazier, a veteran soldier, was run over by the electric cars, which severed his legs below the knees. There were several attendants and inmates upon the veranda of the Whitesboro sanitarium, in front of which the accident occurred, but they seemed too horrified to offer any assistance to the injured man. Miss Randall sprang from the carriage, called for help from the sanitarium. Receiving no attention, she rushed into the yard, and, cutting down the clothesline, she bound up the limbs, stopping the flow of blood. She afterward assisted at the amputation, and the physicians declare the man owes his life to her prompt action.

THE NEXT WORLD'S FAIR.

Although the Paris exposition, which will mark the close of the nineteenth century, is still three years in the future, the French capital has its preparations for the great event well under way. The remarkable extent and beauty of the world's fair at Chicago have stimulated the civic pride of Paris, and no pains will be spared to make this exposition of 1900 surpass even that of 1893.

In anticipation of the approaching event several grand public works, which will add greatly to the beauty of the city, have already been begun. A noble avenue is to be opened from the Champs Elysees to the Hotel des Invalides, crossing the Seine by the great bridge of Alexander III., the corner-stone of which was laid by the czar during his visit to Paris last year.

At the upper end of this avenue two beautiful art palaces, which are to be permanent additions to the public museums of the city, as well as features of the exhibition, are being built. And finally, the Seine in the neighborhood of the exhibition grounds is to be transformed into a sort of Venetian canal, lined with palaces, terraces and Italian gardens, and furnished with broad embankments for use as promenades.

All of these undertakings are now fairly begun, and upon the most magnificent scale. The Pont Alexander III. will be nearly two hundred feet in width, and its single arch crowned by monuments of heroic size will occupy three years in building.

The exhibition itself is planned upon lines of equal grandeur, and there is every reason to expect that it will prove the most extensive and varied display of the products of civilization, useful and beautiful, which the world has ever seen.

Our own country has not yet officially accepted the invitation to take part, but will soon do so. It is to be hoped that the American nation will be represented by a display in all respects worthy of itself and of the occasion, and that Americans who visit the great fair will have no reason to blush at seeing the republic outdone in the friendly rivalry.

Few men in this country are better or more favorably known to the drug and medicine trade than Mr. E. J. Schall, buyer in proprietary medicine department of the Meyer Bros. Drug Co., St. Louis. He says: "My boy came home from school with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain. I dressed the wound and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm, freely; all pain ceased, and in a remarkably short time, it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism, I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." Sold by C. D. Stevens, Pharmacist, corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

His Right of Discovery.
From the Chicago Inter Ocean: Chief Clerk W. T. Treleven, of the Santa Fe freight office, brings the following story with him from his western trip:

"When the train stopped at Larned, Kan., I heard a voice say, in a tone of command: 'Come out of there!' I looked out of the car window and saw an old man holding a tramp who was just crawling out from the trucks under a car. I supposed it was the sheriff of the county, and that he had caught a criminal.

"I want you," said the old man, as the tramp stood on his feet. 'I'll give you $1.50 a day.'

"Then it dawned on me. The old man was out catching farm-hands for the harvest field. A moment later a younger man came up and tried to hire the tramp, but the older farmer drove him away, saying the tramp was his by right of discovery, and he proposed to keep him or fight. The conductor told me such occurrences are common at present, and that there are few stations along the line in the grain belt but have a crowd of farmers around them at train time, hoping to be able to catch a tramp for the harvest fields. It is work or jail with a tramp when he falls into such hands."

"Many have said their children would have died of croup, if Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had not been given," writes Kellan & Curran, drugists, Seaview, Va. "People come from far and near to get it and speak of it in the highest terms." This is equally true of this remedy in every community where it is known. Buy a bottle at Stevens drug store and try it yourself.

A cannon that was used on board the Kearsarge in her naval duel with the Alabama is part of the new soldiers' monument at Stamford, Conn.

"I can't see how any family lives without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says J. R. Adams, a well known druggist, of Geneva, Al., in a letter inquiring the price of a dozen bottles, that he might not only have it for use in his own family, but supply it to his neighbors. The reason some people get along without it, is because they do not know its value, and what a vast amount of suffering it will save. Wherever it becomes known and used, it is recognized as a necessity, for it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon for bowel complaints, both for children and adults. For sale by C. D. Stevens, Pharmacist, corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

A United States Officer SOME INCIDENTS OF HIS LIFE AND HARD-SHIPS IN THE LATE WAR.

From the Gazette, Medway, Mass.

The thriving town of Medway, Mass., has no more reputable citizen than Capt. John P. L. Grant, the carpenter and builder. For months he was a sufferer from wrecked digestion, loss of memory and the keenest of rheumatic pains arising from a life of arduous labor and exposure as an officer in the late war, and later as a U. S. mail carrier. A representative of this paper called on Capt. Grant for his story. He met the newspaper man cheerfully, and in his own honest, simple language, said:

"I was born in South Berwick, Me., Dec. 30, 1834, and when two years old, moved with my parents to Old York, Me. When 16 years old I was apprenticed to a prominent builder, Samuel Colcord, of Exeter, N. H., to learn the carpenter's trade with the added privilege of attending Phillips Academy, then as now a famous seat of learning. I graduated from there and went to Portland, Me., where I served two years with Hon. Wm. G. Kimball, a noted builder of the time.

"I worked in Newburyport two years and then established myself in business in West Amesbury. During this period I was married at Charlestown. In 1862 I removed to York where I enlisted in the U. S. service. I served nearly three years, participated in forty-three battles, some of them the hottest fights of the war, was twice wounded and for a time disabled, and at last was discharged at Augusta, Me., in 1865.

"I secured and kept the contract for carrying the mails between York and Portsmouth, N. H., for twelve years. I removed to Medway in March, 1887, where I have since resided, in business as a carpenter and builder. I have raised a family of ten children, and have now a family of six residing with me.

"About three years ago I was suddenly attacked with dizzy spells, protracted in duration and more frequent as the weeks went by. With these attacks came incessant vomiting and spasms of coma so that instantly I would fall wherever I might be and remain so for some time.

"Soon I was forced to keep in bed, my digestion was wrecked, my business was going to pieces and everything looked very dark. Of course I tried all kinds of remedies that were recommended but to no avail, and I also went to a Medical Institute in Boston, but all my expenditure was fruitless.

"Finally I secured a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and received so great relief from them that my family and myself could see the direct benefits.

"I kept on with their use and steadily grew better. The dizzy attacks lessened and at last left me, the vomiting has entirely ceased and my general health has not yet stopped its improvement. My digestion is now good and to no other agency than to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People can my cure be ascribed.

"I had since the war, been troubled greatly with chronic rheumatism but this was relieved by taking these pills. It is one of the greatest remedies ever used by anybody and every member of my family has the same high opinion of it that I do. I have nothing but earnest, grateful praise for what it has done for me."

(Signed) JOHN P. L. GRANT.
Capt. Grant will be glad to answer any letters addressed him about his case. His address is P. O. box 142, Medway, Mass.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. All of them on the market from twenty-five to sixty years. The best makes the country produces--the Stoves a dealer could well feel proud of. Any of them capable of caring for your winter needs. The concerns who make these Stoves have millions of dollars invested. Their sales increase every year. It stands to reason then that prices must be low and quality very high. We are never undersold. With the greatest of all Stove stocks we can certainly make the buying part an object.

Minor details, as well as the most important, are carefully looked after in the construction of Jewel Stoves and Ranges. It is an aggregation of perfect features, small and large, that makes the perfect stove. This fairly accounts for the high merit of the Jewels. In point of efficiency, convenience, durability, design and finish, they outrank all other makes. Ask the dealer for them, and look for the above trade mark.
